HUMBOLDT - GATORS CLASH TOMORROW!

Rooters, Yell Leaders Jeered ---Not Cheered for Inactivity

By Si Greenblatt

With the rumbling of 16,000 voices still ringing in my ears from the greatest organized rooting section in the country, it is with great pain that I must go to the opposite side and ask, "Where in blazes is the State rooting section?"

Last week at Berkeley, the U. C. rooters, yelling from down deep in their esophagus tubes, almost won a game for the "underdog" football squad. That, dear students, was something to see and hear, and it certainly made one realize how much spirit State lacks.

The football team practices every night so it can produce a winning and a colorful ball team. Our appreciation in the past has seemed to be rather negative. Is it the fault of the students entirely or is it the lack of leadership among our yell-leaders?

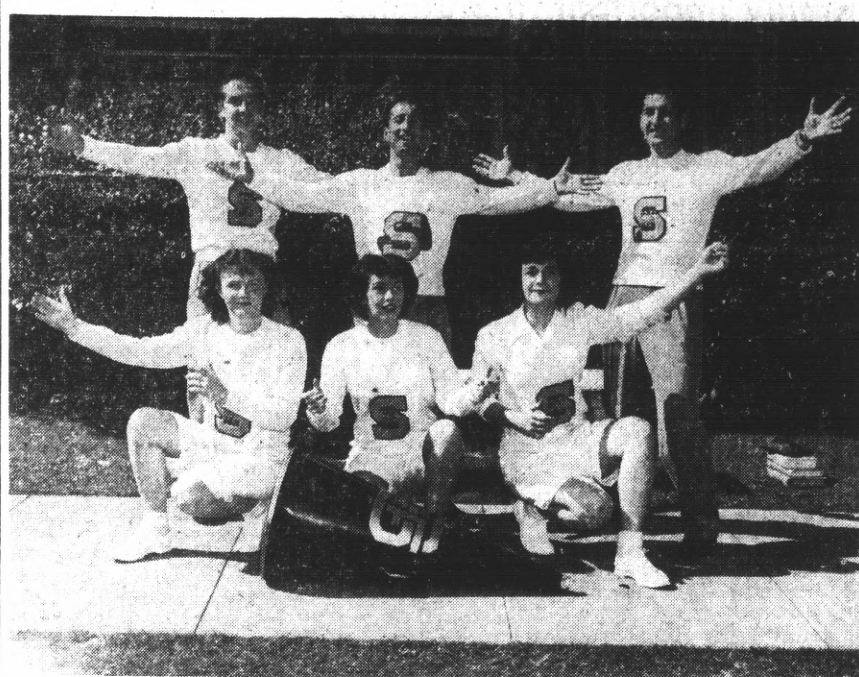

Sal Salina has promised an organized rooting section for the Chico game at Seals' stadium, November 2. What Mr. Salina and his assistants forgot was the fact that the Golden Gators play Humboldt State tomorrow, October 26, 2:30 p. m., at the Washington High School stadium. Must he PREPARE a rooting section for a game? Is not the sole fact that State's playing of a football contest sufficient enough reason for him to prepare a well organized, cheer conscious student body?

Salina pointed out that "the main stumbling-block is getting student support. If we can get the students organized, we can have a rooting section everybody can be proud of."

What about rooters' caps and small megaphones for the students—pom-poms for the women—white T-shirts for the men? In other words, we should LOOK like a rooting section.

The yell leaders should give the rooters a "briefing" in the various yells, songs and stunts before the game. If these leaders show themselves organized, they won't have to worry about an organized rooting section. The spirit is willing, but the voices are still weak.

Yell Leaders: Warren Runstadler, Sal Salina, Sal Parisi, Peggy Humphries, Joe Ann Woods.

Gators Clash With Humboldt At Washington High Stadium

By George Newell

Poly 7-6, the mighty Supergators face the Humboldt Staters tomorrow afternoon at George Washington High School stadium.

This will be a fan's game. It's the first time that Gator rooters will be able to see their "greatest team in State history" in a bona fide stadium. There will be no peeking at our boys from behind a wire fence or sitting on the opposition's side of the field. The Washington stadium is easily accessible from the campus. Take the 22 car on Fillmore and transfer to the B car on Geary. Washington High is near 33 and Geary.

Last week's game at Cal Poly was a real test of State strength and we won a moral victory in every sense of the word. Throughout the contest the Gators were on the offensive, carrying the game to the badly outclassed Mustangs. State's lone score came in the third quarter on a 68 yard touchdown drive. John Comach, State full-back, skirted right end for the score.

HISTORY!

In the last two minutes of play, Vern Bebernes, Mustang quarterback, was knocked silly on a terrific tackle by Ed Tomasello, Gator tackle. Two plays later Bebernes, still in a dazed condition, stepped back to kick. Izzie Pivnick broke through the weakening Poly line and took the ball on his chest. The blocked kick, instead of rolling backward, arched toward the sideline and went out of bounds on the Mustang 21 yard line. This, in reality, was a bad break for our boys. If the ball had stayed in bounds, any one of three men who had broken through with Pivnick could have picked it up and run to a touchdown.

With first down on the 2 and the timer's gun raised in the air, Poly held and the game ended.

Comparing season scores and players with Humboldt it looks like a great day for the Gators tomorrow. Let's get warmed up for the big game with Chico next week by turning out en masse to cheer for what is proving to be "THE GREATEST TEAM IN STATE

Long Awaited Fashion Show And Dance Greets Gaters Tonight; Mitchell, Pivnick Chosen 'Best Dressers'

New fashions are on display at 8:30 tonight in the gym by Bib 'n' Tucker-Phi Epsilon Mu at the fashion show dance. The following features are just a few of the new fashions; billowing sleeves caught tight at the wrist, sweaters tucked in skirts, and very low or high necked dresses with split skirts.

"The new look will be stressed in the fashion show tonight," said Barbara Mocker, president of Bib 'n' Tucker. "Lounge and play clothes featuring slacks, shorts and sport dresses, campus wear, date clothes and clothes for formal occasions are to be modeled."

Pivnick, Mitchell Win Titles

With the accent on fashion and well-grooming, members of Bib 'n' Tucker, women's fashion sorority, and Phi Epsilon Mu, men's physical education fraternity, met this week to select the best dressed man and woman on campus.

Izzie Pivnick, student body president, and Helena Mitchell, State senior, pulled top honors and will reign as the "best-dressed" tonight at the fashion show and dance.

ALL TYPES DISPLAYED

O'Connor Moffat's is supplying forty changes for the ten models. Clothes for each activity during the day, showing advanced styles in ski togs for winter fun and ten evening gowns will be featured.

New accessories, jewelry, gloves, hats and purses, are an added attraction.

Phi Epsilon Mu, the men's honorary physical education fraternity, presents four men to model clothes showing what well-dressed men wear.

All men models are ex-service men: Lawrence Keller, navy; Bob Kitchen and Bob Polidori, army, and Norm Keller, air corps.

Profs Differ On Views Of FEPC Bill

The opinions of both faculty and students differ greatly on proposition 11, Fair Employment Practices act. An interview with two of State's instructors more than confirmed this fact.

Dr. Floyd Cave, professor of government, took a definite stand on the issue when he said, "I am in favor of the idea of non-discrimination but am doubtful if proposition 11 enacted into law would secure the objectives its sponsors have in mind. I fear that the law could be evaded and that if it proved workable might involve unjustifiable interferences with personal liberty." Dr. Cave went on to explain that he believed that to secure legislative action was the wrong approach.

OPPOSITE VIEW TAKEN

On the other hand, Dr. Somerville Thomson, professor of Spanish, believes that the proposition should be passed, even though it would mean an adjustment of our society to make it work. "If we are to make progress toward a democratic solution of our problems," he said, "we should start where the need is greatest."

To say that interest has been created over the proposed legislation is underplaying the situation. The student faculty committee has been selling buttons and is planning to secure speakers in sociology and psychology. On the Fair Employment Practices Act State students have formed a definite opinion, and many will have an opportunity to show their approval or disapproval when the bill comes up for vote.

AVC Group Formed Here

A San Francisco State chapter of the American Veterans' Committee was formed last Wednesday night, October 16, at a special meeting of twenty-five veteran students. The chapter is an off-campus organization though it has permission to meet on the campus. Richard Detterling, chairman of the S. F. council of the AVC, addressed the group on the organization and aims of the AVC.

In emphasizing the democratic structure of the organization, he said, "The answer to the question 'What does AVC stand for?' can be best answered by the question 'What do you stand for?' for each chapter of the AVC, unlike the system of many other organizations, has the power to take a definite stand on any issue regardless of the position of the national committee."

Soph Strut Featured At Alumni Week-end Nov. 1

The annual Soph Strut, sponsored by the sophomore class, is to take place Friday, November 1 from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. in the Colonial room of the St. Francis hotel. It is to be the climax of Alumni Homecoming week.

Tickets, at $1.75 per couple with a student body card and $2.25 without, are to go on sale Monday, October 28. Music for the dance will be furnished by Ray Hackett, his ten piece band and vocalist. It is to be a semi-formal affair; men are to wear dark suits and women are to be dressed in formals.

COMMITTEES LISTED

Pat Kilkenny, president of the Art Federation, is in charge of all poster making, and publicity is under the direction of Jean Spaulding, secretary-treasurer of the sophomore class. Corky Calvert, class vice-president, is in charge of all ticket sales and the dance committee which consists of Phil Cali, Arlie Fowlkes, Betty Henry, Jeannette Jone, Norm Keller, Bob Kitchener, Pat Kilkenny, Rita Kroner, Ernie Nackard, Warren Runstadler, Margie Schreiber, Jean Spaulding and Claire Tyson. "We are cooperating in every way with Dr. Gibson, who is in charge of Alumni Homecoming Week," stated Corky Calvert, "and if the student body will all attend, the Homecoming dance will be a huge success."

Phi Eta Chi Dines, Debates At Lucca's

By Marne Camp

In a heated discussion at a banquet sponsored by Phi Eta Chi, men's service organization, Wednesday evening at Lucca's, Dr. Alfred Fisk defended proposition 11 by saying, "The law would uphold those who really want non-discrimination. If, through technicalities, the bill were voted down, the nation would feel as if the principle had failed."

Dr. Floyd Cave, however, took another point of view when he said, "I favor the principle but not the legislation. It is trying to single out certain discrimination."

It was agreed among all present that a great responsibility rests with the college student in guiding those who are not so fortunate in receiving a good education toward formulating good government.

Dr. Alfred Fisk also brought up the urgency of voting no on proposition 12, a bill which, if passed, would give the legislature power to change any amendment which had been passed by popular vote.

Faculty members Dr. Frank Fenton, Dr. Alfred Fisk, Dr. Floyd Cave, Dr. George Gibson and Student Body President Izzie Pivnick; Gater editor Art Blum; Student Body Treasurer Don Burch and 20 other interested students gave their opinions and viewpoints in regards to the issues at hand.

Gater, Legislators Share Same Hut

Tentative plans have been made for the distribution of space in the five huts situated on the lawn and in the Rally bowl. Walter J. Homan, dean of the lower division, said that the construction will be completed very soon and that the only detail left is to attend to the heating facilities.

The Golden Gater, which now has an office only because of the mercy of some kind soul, and the Franciscan and Inklings all will soon have a place to call home. They are to share the hut on the Rally bowl nearest the tennis court with the student body president.

LOUNGE RESURRECTED

A welcomed bit of news is the planned resurrection of the student lounge in the hut opposite the balcony of the Women's gym. The opening of the lounge should alleviate the doubling up now necessary in the cafeteria and the difficulty under which State students have had to carry out their social life on the campus. The remaining huts, the three nearest Anderson hall, will be used for classes, especially large lecture courses.

Students Urged To Vote Wisely On Nov. Ballot

Interests of the student are definitely involved in the first post-war general elections to be held in November. The big issue is whether the youth of today is going to let history repeat itself by going into that shell of indifference which the generation before us did after the last war. We all know too well the results of the indifference isolationistic policy followed by the generation of our fathers.

Political prophets and all pressure groups are watching this election closely for it has been said that the results will indicate the course this nation is to follow for years to come. The reason for the importance attributed to this election is that for the first time in six years a large group of young people including 11,000,000 veterans will have an opportunity to vote.

TO HELP EDUCATION

What stand should the student take in the coming election? By voting "yes" on Proposition 3, the student can help provide a higher level of education for himself and his children. For number 3 not only provides for a minimum annual wage of $2,400 for teachers, but it also stipulates that all state colleges be a part of the public school system and that they never be removed to any other authority.

Banquets Highlight Homecoming Festivities

Alumni Homecoming Week-end on November 1 and 2 brings increased activity on the part of participating clubs in preparation for the numerous social occasions.

Present plans include club dinners followed by the Soph Strut on Friday, November 1. The Saturday, November 2, program will include an open house at the college from 10 to 12 a. m., luncheon in the Co-op from 12 to 2 p. m., a tour of the new campus in buses, and, as a climax, the State-Chico football game at 8:30 p. m. in the Seals' Stadium.

The Club Advisory Council met last Tuesday noon in room 117 to discuss plans for the alumni welcome. June Dolan, student body vice-president, acted as temporary president for the gathering.

GIBSON COMMENTS

Dr. George Gibson, in charge of the Week-end program, led the council's discussion. "There is a great need for an alumni association at this school. The Homecoming Week-end is expressly for the purpose of bringing the alumni together in order that such an association may be inaugurated." Dr. Gibson continued, "Following the tour of the new campus, Saturday, November 2, we hope to join with those alumni present in forming an Alumni Association that will be equal to that of any other college."

Main topic of discussion at the meeting was the club dinners to precede the Soph Strut. Plans for these dinners are being formulated by the different clubs. Upon completion of the plans, notices will be sent by the clubs to their respective alumni members.

"Publicity for this affair and especially the Chico game is being handled by 100 newspapers of this state, declared Dr. Carroll Atkinson, journalism adviser.

Money Needed For New Health Plan

"If more money were available for the student health fund, it would be possible to give the students one home-visit by a physician, telephone consultations, one-night hospitalization, if necessary, a certain amount of dental treatment and psychiatric and clinical service at a local clinic," explained Dean David Cox, chairman of the Physical Education and Health department.

Specific services now offered by the student health center include an annual physical examination for each student, a chest X-ray for tuberculosis, and treatment for all injuries incurred on campus. The center, located in room 111, Anderson hall, has been established to give Staters medical care and aid in health problems. A nurse or doctor is in attendance during the hours of 7:30 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Fashion Plate, Izzie Pivnick and Helena Mitchell, as chosen by Bib 'n' Tucker and Phi Epsilon Mu.

Tryouts For State Follies Scheduled

Tryout appointments for the State Follies are being made by Stuart Bennett, production manager. To date four organizations and six individual Staters are scheduled for tryouts which will be held from October 28 to November 1.

Sigma Pi Sigma and Kappa Theta, honorary service fraternity and sorority respectively, Kappa Delta Tau, dance sorority, and Alpha Pi Nu, nursing sorority, are the organizations scheduled for tryouts. Shirley Graubart and Dorothy Anne Patterson are slated to present dance routines. Vera Preobrajensky plans to submit an original skit. Robert Stanall and Lillian Speese are working on a duet number.

Appointments for tryouts can be made with Bennett through P. O. box 1358 until next Tuesday, November 22.

Thespians Cut "Hell Week"

A shakeup in the initiation policy of Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, came as a result of the criticism aimed at the organization's "hell week." A special meeting of the group was called Monday, October 21, by Ed Reynolds who thought it necessary to reorganize Alpha Psi.

At the meeting it was decided that in fairness to those who cooperated in the informal initiation, certain pledges would be suspended from the organization until next semester. Those affected by the new resolution are Stu Bennett, Gloria Huggins, Margo Davidson, John Gill and Rosemary San Filiipo. Those admitted to membership are Sandra Huggins, Arlie Fowlkes, Louis Fosse, Joe Franklin, Virginia Amaral, Barbara Nelson, Fern Kline, Ken Phinney and Kay McGovern.

Co-ed 'Sadies' Eye All Males

State's Sadie Hawkins' Day dance is to be held in the Women's gym, on November 8, at 8:30 p. m. Planned by the Music Federation, this will be a turnabout affair, with women on the prowl patrolling what's left of our campus. Stray men will be their prey.

All attending are asked to dress in Dogpatch style. Suggested characterizations are L'il Abner, Daisy Mae, Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Indian Joe, Barney Barnsmell, Marryin' Sam, the Wolf Girl, etc. Ray Hackett's orchestra is furnishing the music. Admission is 75c with a student body card, $1 without. Only stag tickets will be sold.

POSTER CONTEST

The federation is sponsoring a poster contest in conjunction with the dance. First prize of $10, second prize of $5 and third prize of two tickets to the dance are offered.

Editorial - TERRY'S BLAST UNCALLED FOR

Last week a member of the Gater Sports staff unjustly delivered a scathing denunciation of the football team and the manner in which it was handled. While it is the Gater's policy to allow any of its writers as much free reign as possible, there is little doubt that the attack launched in Terry's Tangents last week was both unnecessary and unwarranted.

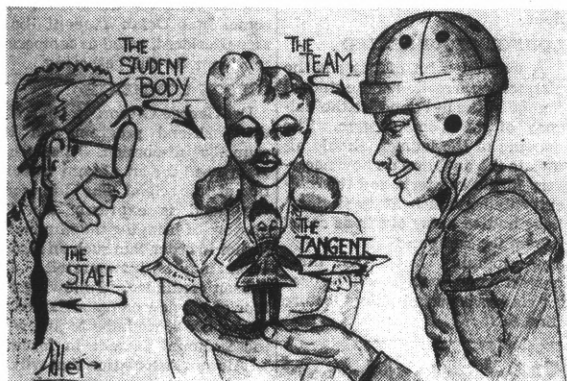

This paper has felt all along that the efforts of Coach Dick Boyle to build a team from scratch, and the team's effort to build itself into a winning outfit merited one-hundred per cent praise from the entire student body.

Any doubt that there might have been, however, concerning the team's spirit and sense of cohesion were once and for all erased last Saturday night when the underdog State eleven fought its heart out in barely losing to Cal Poly 7 to 6. The team looked so good, even in defeat, that this game might have been called a moral victory for State. It's certain the author of Terry's Tangents would have been forced to eat his words if he had taken time to watch an inspired Gator eleven reach heights possible only to a team that was both high spirited and pretty well organized.

The members of the team as a whole were pretty well burned up at Sportswriter Kilpatrick's illogical and unfounded remarks. They had a right to be, for at no time during the season have they shown anything but the most intense desire to win. At all times they have shown themselves to be well coached and more, to be in perfect harmony with each other.

In plain everyday English then, Kilpatrick's article was unfortunate because he evidently dealt with mere literary figments of his imagination to the detriment of a grand bunch of boys who like to play football for the sake of simply playing the game itself.

The Gater feels, therefore, there was no valid reason for the attack, and publicly apologizes for the expressed, private opinion of one writer. The State football team has earned the respect and admiration of the entire student-body for its gallant, uphill fight against terrific odds in last week's Cal Poly classic. We can show our pride in these boys by turning out en masse for their next three home games against Humboldt State, Chico State and the Alameda Naval Air Station!

Terry eats his "Tangents" — or are they words?

Editorial - OUR STUDENT BODY RIGHTS INFRINGED UPON AT GAME

Time and again the question has been raised, "What do I actually get with my Student Body card?" And, of course, the answer that is invariably given first is, "Why, you get into all the football games free! Natch!"

However, such is not the case we regret to inform you misled student body card holders. At least, such was not the case last week when a few carloads of State's followed the team down to San Luis Obispo and discovered that even with Student Body cards they were forced to pay admission at the Cal Poly stadium.

Thoroughly irked, these Staters questioned the Cal Poly graduate manager as to the "why's and wherefore's" of this seemingly unnecessary act. According to the grad manager, however, a letter had been dispatched to the State business office requesting information as to the number of Staters expected to make the trip, with the implication that cards would be honored. It seems, though, that a letter was sent in return from the college stating that no one from this school would be present officially... and thus the matter of honoring Student Body cards was left floundering in mid-air, lost in a welter of misunderstandings.

A copy of the letter from Cal Poly to State has been received as further proof of that school's good intentions. This college's reply, while courteous enough and accurate as far as it went, did not make mention of the fact that if State students were present, it would be greatly appreciated if their Student Body cards were to be honored.

Actually, this lack of understanding on both sides was due to a lack of definite policy on the matter. It would seem, therefore, that the Executive Board should take immediate steps to guarantee against any further infringements upon the rights of Student Body card holders.

Interest in Government Rated Highly Important to Students

By John and Winfred Lindsay

When you go to school, your pattern of living is more or less unique; therefore, why should elections, referendums, initiatives concern you? There are two reasons: many election measures directly influence you as a student, and all others influence you as a citizen in a self-governing nation.

Democracy is dynamic, democracy is a "state of becoming." That means that those who have wider experience, greater awareness of what constitutes a responsible democracy must conscientiously assume their responsibilities. Voting is certainly one of the most important.

Students are particularly fortunate; being an intelligent citizen is much easier for some one who is experienced in accumulating information. There is excitement, pleasure, satisfaction in being well-informed about the immediate affairs of an election. For instance, do you know how Proposition 11, the Fair Employment Practices Act, got on the ballot? Two hundred thousand Californians thought it important enough to sign initiative petitions so that it could be brought for vote by the people. And there were many friendly, encouraging, entertaining episodes in securing those signatures. Many of us went from door to door, ringing the door bell and inviting the householder to exercise his democratic rights. The variety of responses to election affairs was infinite; the saddest thing was the number of people who didn't know about initiatives and didn't care about voting. As students, our personal battles against ignorance are slight; our forces must be concentrated against our own lethargy.

Our primary aim is to fit ourselves for happy, useful lives. And no life can be that without intelligent assumption of citizenship, as well as other responsibilities. Though we are leading the "sheltered lives" of students, we must not take a vacation from social responsibility. Voting is one of the most positive ways in which we can express our awareness and concern for democracy.

Gater Grips

Have You Any Ideas?

Dear Editor:
Why does the Gater exist? It seems to me that the best reason for its existence would be as one of the educational techniques of the college.

One area which our educational system does not fully exploit is the exposition and examination of student ideas. Many fine ideas are buried in the waste basket after the instructor has decided upon a grade for them. The Gater could become more than a social calendar by saving a few of these ideas from the waste basket and presenting them for the consideration of other seekers after the light! I'd even like to see some of the faculty put some of their ideas down on paper and the Gater publish them!

Marne Camp, in a signed article, does not reflect the editorial policy of the paper (as Derek Walton suggests); he should present his considered ideas for our consideration. His article becomes useful when it provokes us to thought, and the Gater becomes useful when it encourages and uses expressions of student thought.

If we're going to college to broaden our vision and experience, the Gater should assume a role in the process. Otherwise, justification for its existence remain exceedingly slight.

Winfred Lindsay

Initiation Defended

Dear Editor:

It is unfortunate that an apparent controversy should occur about initiation into honorary societies and fraternities. It is equally unfortunate that a dogmatic point of view should be taken by any individual or editor.

Because the issue of initiation was aimed primarily at Alpha Psi Omega, I sincerely feel that the views of the organization should be considered as well as those suggestions that oppose them. In the first place, certain methods for determining cooperation, loyalty, ability to take direction, and sportsmanship were established by Alpha Psi Omega.

The attack about the initiation centered on childishness, unbecoming appearance for an adult,

Delinquency Is An Age-Old Fallacy

By Harry Karpilow

"Our earth is degenerate in these latter days. There are signs that the world is coming to an end. Children no longer obey their parents. Everybody wants to write a book. The end of the world is near!" This statement by an Egyptian priest from the year 4000 B. C. was quoted by Mr. William A. Cowan, supervisor of Frederic Burk School, at the recent Fathers' Night.

Mr. Cowan continued with a 2000 year-old quotation from the philosophies of Socrates — "The children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority, they show disrespect for elders and love chatter in place of exercise. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, cross their legs and tyrannize over their teachers."

TIMES HAVEN'T CHANGED

It seems from these quotations that the problems of child delinquency today are much the same as in those ancient days. Is it a child problem, however, or is it the ageless problem of the "old folks" not being able to keep up with the times? Remember how grandma stuck to the old idea of sulphur and molasses when Ex Lax tasted so much better?

Since this is supposed to be a progressive age, child rearing should also be placed upon a progressive basis. Little Johnny is called disrespectful and is bopped over the head with a "But Pop, you're wrong..." Parents shudder at the unthinkable thought that they MIGHT BE WRONG! Poor little Johnny! When he finally rebels against this tyrannical system of upbringing, he is branded as a "delinquent."

Could it be possible that the Egyptian priest and Socrates were also "old fashioned?"

Gater Grips letters to the editor should be kept within 200 words. We will endeavor to print all we receive.

Gators Outplay Staters Face Poly; Lose 7-6 "Axemen" Sat.

By Joe Heath

Playing their greatest game of the season thus far, the fighting Gators lost a heartbreaking 7 to 6 contest to the heavily favored Cal Poly Mustangs at San Luis Obispo last Saturday night.

Climax running, sensational blocking and excellent spirit displayed by the State team highlighted the game. The Mustangs, 5 to 1 favorites, and sporting a gigantic buildup, were outplayed throughout.

MUSTANGS OUTPLAYED

Displaying devastating running attacks, the "Golden Tide" was in Poly territory three-quarters of the game. In the first quarter the Buchanan street boys reached the Mustang 20. The Polyites were only able to advance to their own 48. In the second the Mustangs were able to dent Gator paydirt. Midway in that period with the Poly team in possession on their own 40, Vern Bebernes, Mustang quarter, got off a beautiful coffin corner kick that went out of bounds on the State 6 yard line. Three plays netted the Gators 8 yards and they were forced to kick. Barney Greenberg booted a 35 yard kick that was taken by Gene Pimentel, Mustang safety, who returned 19 yards to the Gator 31. Pimentel rambled 20 yards around his own right end to the 11. This set up the Mustang touchdown play. Two plays later Bebernes flipped a pass to Byron Culver, a halfback, in the corner of the end zone for the score. Don Dulitz proved to be the hero of the game as he booted the all-important extra point.

THIRD QUARTER

In the third quarter the sensational line play of the Staters kept the Obispo boys in their own territory. It turned out to be a kicking duel between Barney Greenberg and Lee Rosa, Poly quarterback. The Gators did advance to the Poly 35 during this period. This threat was stifled when a State pass intended for Amos Adkins on the 23 was intercepted by Pimentel.

GATORS DRIVE

As the fourth quarter opened, the Mustangs opened a drive that carried them to the State 20. Two plays later they found themselves back on the Gator 33. The tide had turned and the fighting San Franciscans started their own touchdown drive. John Comach ripped off 32 yards around right end to the Mustang 35 yard line. Almost trapped behind the line of scrimmage he was sprung into the open with key blocks by Jack Root and Ed Melendez.

With first down on the enemy's 35 Chuck Parish powered over tackle for 3 yards. A failure to report penalty against Cal Poly gave the Gators 2nd down and two on the 27. Parish blasted right tackle for 12 yards and a first down on the 16.

Stopped for two downs on the 16 the Gators could not be denied. John Comach on an end sweep was thrown out of bounds on the Cal Poly six, first and goal to go. Greenberg made 4 yards to the two yard line behind the excellent blocking of Ed Tomasello. Comach lost three yards on the next play back to the five yard line.

COMACH SCORES

John Comach then tucked the pigskin under his arm and headed for the supposedly impenetrable Poly goal line around right end and scored!

Then came the important conversion! Walt Pudlowski was called off the bench by Coach Boyle and he rushed into the game. A bad pass from center bounded past Ed Kieper, the man who was supposed to hold for the conversion, and Pudlowski attempted to pass as he scooped the ball off the turf. His attempt was intercepted by George Benito, Poly tackle, and the play was ruled dead.

OUTSTANDING PLAYS

In the third period the Gators showed a new threat in O'Neil, a harum scarum runner, who broke away for many long gains. Amos Adkins was an outstanding player during the contest, and he made many fine catches. Barney Greenberg, not a long punter, showed consistency during the game and had an above-average 35 yards from scrimmage on his boots. Defensively, Bob Buchanan, State end, broke up a Mustang pass that spelled touchdown and played well throughout. Izzie Pivnick blocked a kick in the last two minutes, but the Gators couldn't get

SPORT DOPE By Scott Hope

Terrence Michael Kilpatrick, the non-conformist, devoted his column, a fortnight gone, to a definition of competitive spirit. Last week he dissertated on the disorganized appearance of our used-to-be unbeaten eleven. I ain't no individualist, so—I'm carrying on in the same vein.

Terrance stated last week: "... these little incongruities appear trivial and unimportant, and surely no one maintains that their adherence has anything to do with the winning of games..."

Terry, m'lud... those little incongruities have a helluva lot to do with winning games. Take an organized, heavily populated rooting section, for instance. The more assured members of our S. B. insist that an organized rooting section is childish, trivial and fatuous. California, Stanford, ad infinitum, those pinnacles of higher education and austerity would not like that. Why should we, who are trying to pull ourselves up into their class (junior grade) frown on such things on? I dunno...

A good, vociferous rooting section is important. The energy exuded up there seems to permeate unto the field below. The guys (?) like it. A good yell is like a shot of adrenalin to them. When someone is injured it is rather nice to know that the S. B. appreciates the effort that occasioned the injury... by noise, not by admiration. That pain won't be quite so intense... and the next guy is going to put out just a little more if he knows it's appreciated.

Ok! Ok! I'll shut up.

AD TRIVIA

Methinks that the appellation "Mouse" belongs to Ed Pittson. I know Norm Keller is THE mouse, but perhaps he wouldn't mind too much if we call Ed the "Lil Mouse." Pittson, erstwhile center for the JV's, has acquired a need-to-be-beef-steaked eye in both of the JV contests, thus far...

Did you notice a couple weeks back that Bob Oas and George Bell led Oregon to a 14-13 win over Cal? I went to high school with both of them... University High School in Oakland, a kind of subdivision of the University of California. Home is where you hang what hat?

WEEK'S ALL-BAY AREA ELEVEN (BY REQUEST)

We did it last year—now, too! Ends, Cunningham, Cal and Grbo-vaz; USF; tackles, Turner, Cal and McPartland, St. Mary's; Guards, Dodds, Cal and McDermid, Santa Clara; center, Pieper, Cal; quarter, Denevi, San Jose, Halves, Hall, USF and Wedemeyer, St. Mary's; and Merriman, Stanford, at full.

MEN OF THE WEEK

Hats off to two men who are both deserving the title MAN OF THE WEEK. One, Bill Callas, standout goal tender of the Gator soccer squad who last Saturday so unceremoniously dumped the University of California club. The second candidate, John Comach, who is proving to be more of a combination of Norm Standlee and Doc Blanchard each week.

Worlds of praise should go to the whole State team. They outfooted and outplayed the Cal Poly team all during the game.

By George Newell

The "Lumberjacks" from Arcata, are in town! Swingin' a couple of big axes and a not so impressive record, these boys from Humboldt State will tussle with our "Supergators" tomorrow afternoon at the George Washington stadium.

Injuries have plagued the "Axemen" this season the same as our boys and they will be without the services of Al Fodor, voted the outstanding lineman on the Compton Junior College team of last year. Compton J. C. was voted the outstanding small college team in the nation during the 1945 season.

Other stars that will grace Coach Joe "Cowboy" Forbes' outfit are Bill "Turkey" Thompson, Bob Hayes, Will Goldfarb and Grady Lawrence. "Turkey" Thompson runs the team at the T formation quarterback spot. He was an All-Southern California halfback at Jordan high in L. A. Hayes, a scatback, is a local product of Eureka. Will Goldfarb is the only man on the squad with coast conference experience. He was a second string center on the U. C. L. A. squad last year. Grady Lawrence, left end, is the big defensive gun on the team. He is thought very highly of by Coach Forbes and is credited with bolstering the line to the extent that he made 80 per cent of the tackles in their contest of last week.

Joe "Cowboy" Forbes, lumberjack coach, is a former Occidental star and was the coach of the winning small college championship team of last year, Compton, J. C. In his college days he was credited with a record punt of 91 yards from the line of scrimmage. "Cowboy," a rugged character, was a pro player for the Los Angeles Bulldogs after graduation from Occidental until he retired as an active player a few years ago.

The season record of the "Axemen" looks something like this: Humboldt 13, Linfield college (Oregon) 7; Humboldt 0, Stanford B team, 20; Humboldt 7, Southern Oregon Normal 14; Humboldt 6, Chico State 2.

It looks like the fast-stepping Gators by three or four touchdowns at this writing. The Gators are out for blood this season and it looks like the lumberjacks' axes will be dulled badly tomorrow afternoon.

MINOR SPORTS

W. A. A.
The W. A. A.'s annual high school play day will be held tomorrow from 9:00 a. m. until 2 p. m. The program includes registration, a get acquainted session, athletics and luncheon. WAA members will feature comical costumes in keeping with the "Cartoon Carnival" motif of the day.

Tennis doubles started off with Lonich and Gamba beating O'Looney and Mullin 6-3. In singles, Bertalli won by default from Jaenich and Cohen; Hansen beat Cook 7-5 and Brehl 7-5 and Tullis nosed out Galloway 6-5.

BOXING

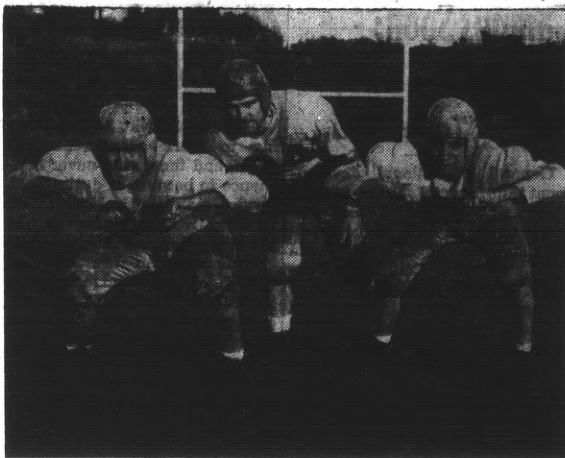

Men interested in varsity boxing are urged to attend an important meeting today in room 209 at 4 p. m. Coach Lee Alderman will meet the pugilists and outline plans which include meeting Cal, Stanford, St. Mary's, Santa Clara, U. S. F., San Jose State and Cal Aggies.

VOLLEY BALL

Plans are now underway for a local inter-collegiate volley ball league. State will be represented if the plans go through and if there are enough interested students.

A local team last year was runner-up to the national champion, which has created a great deal of local interest. All interested individuals watch for later announcements.

Senior "Supergators"

CHARLES "CHUCK" PARISH

Gator halfback... he's 6 feet tall and weighs 170 pounds... Chuck was born September 3, 1928, in Dallas, Texas... made a trip to Las Vegas and stayed long enough to complete his junior high before he came to S. F. He started Commerce in 1943... graduated in the spring of '46.

Football... outstanding man in track. He ran the hundred in 10 flat and the high and low hurdles... he says his greatest football thrill was the day he ran 65 yards against Galileo last year for the deciding touchdown.

Parish lives in Lefty O'Doul's country... South O' Market... he claims roller skating is his favorite hobby... look for him at the Roller Rink at Fillmore and Geary.

Apple pie is his favorite food, and he says he can't seem to get enough... The solid music is not for Chuck. He likes it slow and smooth... that doesn't typify "Seaback" Parish on the football field for he is one of the most dependable backs on this year's "greatest ever" Gator squad.

Grid Experts Pick Winners This Week

GRID IRONS IN THE FIRE: St. Mary's 33, Nevada 13. The Gaels will continue to gallop; the Wolves aren't much to howl about, but are a cinch to score via the air lanes.

USC 21, Stanford 20. The Trojans have plenty of potential power, and it looks as if the perennial slow starters have finally got going.

Washington 13, Cal 6. The Huskies should bounce back from the USC defeat, but Kennerly figures the Bears have a chance as they get more lucky breaks than any other ten teams.

UCLA 32, Santa Clara 7. The Bruins are heavy favorites; Heath says the Broncos will hold them to a one touchdown victory.

State 20, Humboldt 7. The Gators will be hot this week; Newell looks for them to win by four touchdowns.

Individuals watch for later announcements.

Gator 'Shinkickers' Blast U. of Cal 2 to 1!

By St Greenblatt

The California Bears fell before a strong and improving State soccer team by the score of 2-1, initialing the latter's first big victory of the season.

Although the game had no bearing on league play, the Gators proved themselves as potential threats for the revived California Soccer League.

After winning nine straight from the high school teams of San Francisco, the Golden Tide swept through a stubborn but outplayed California aggregation.

NACKORD SCORES

Ernie Nackord opened the scoring for the Staters, after Bill Callis intercepted the ball for the State "shin-kickers." The Golden Bears came back in the same first period to tie the score.

With Martin leading the attack, State scored again late in the second half. While two fullbacks from the Berkeley team were deciding on who should kick the ball, Callis stormed through and intercepted. Dribbling half of the field Martin made a pass to Pete Dalton who kicked the deciding tally.

Many who observed the contest stated that the entire State team — 15 in all — looked like championship caliber, and may provide many upsets against the bigger schools of Northern California. Among the leading schools the Gators tangle are Stanford, California, U. S. F., St. Mary's and a host of others.

ENTER BIG TIME

Although considered a minor sport at larger institutions, soccer may prove a stepping stone towards big time opposition in all sports. The team feels a championship would put State on a big time basis in all future athletic activities, and a good season should do the trick.

The Golden Gators open their league game against the same Berkeley '11' on Nov. 2. Student support would help a great deal.

Picture of the week: Tom Collingwood, who has led many State teams to national and coast recognition on the hardwoods, now playing soccer and doing a very fine job.

Basketball Starts Nov. 4; Nine Letter-men Return

Coach Dan Farmer announced last week that with the return of nine lettermen to the campus hardwoods, State should enjoy the greatest year in its basketball history.

The returning lettermen are Norm Keller, Mel Martin, Jack Byrne, Hal Fox, Irv Edstrom, Al Rossi, Jack Pileri, Bill Callas and Russ Patrick. The squad will be further bolstered by several name prep stars from the Bay Area.

Coach Farmer added that formal practice would begin November 4 in the State gym, with additional turn-outs being accepted in the men's locker room.

'Maids' Lead In Intramural Nat. League Tilts

By Gene Phillips

The fourth week of intramural play finds the four wins and no loss record of the Mermaids dominating the National League scene and the 3 and 0 victory column of both the Sigma Pi Sigma squad and 69'er team heading the American League.

The National League-leading Mermaids last week scored the most crushing victory to date when they handily defeated the previously strong Agathean squad 21 to 0. The Mermaids first scored with a spread formation that sent their left half Pete Gillette scampering around left end for 7 points and made it 13 a few minutes later when Paul Ciantic passed to W. C. Tretiniec in the end zone. Another 2 points were picked up when the fast charging Mermaid line, led by Captain Cliff Gray, caught Don Pederson, the Agathean captain, behind the goal for the safety. The final period saw Ciantic again passing to a TD, this time to Ed Gordon, to end the scoring.

One of the two leading American League clubs, the Sigma's, this week face a tough test when they meet the highly touted Gator squad.

The third week of play was overwhelmed with default wins as the Maids defeated the Salmons, the Yardbirds beat the Red Hots, the Newman Club won over the Worms and the Mermaids emerged victorious over the Red Hots, all by default route with the Agatheans, Gators and Sigma's joining the default winners via the gratis road also.

Veterans To Obtain Housing Units On New Campus Soon; Development Tests Given Ex GI's For College Credit

Housing

State housing units at the new campus will soon be available to veterans, according to Dr. John Cornelsen, dean of men.

San Francisco college has loaned the college property to federal and state authorities.

The Federal Public Housing Authority is to be responsible for completion of the buildings. The State of California will complete the grading preparations of the grounds.

Dean John H. Butler and Dr. Cornelsen, who recently visited the offices of the Housing Authority, reported that the units would not be ready prior to December 1. According to the various delays in the past, it would be more realistic not to expect the units to be ready prior to January 1," prophesied Dr. Cornelsen.

Twenty-one units with four apartment will include two bedrooms, a living room, a bath and a kitchen. Estimated rental prices are $32.50 a month for unfurnished apartments and $38.50 furnished.

All units are to be filled by State college students. The apartments are practically all spoken for. Any veterans interested in possible vacancies, however, are urged to contact Dean Cornelsen, room 106, College hall. As far as possible, the units will be available for occupancy as they are completed.

Students to Represent State on Radio Program

The students of S. F. State are being featured on the last half of Opinion Please presented by "The students, and the show will be aired today at 2:15 p. m. The scripts will be prepared by the American School of the Air," to be directed by Raymond Doyle, director of radio dramatics at State.

Dick Brautigam, Marge Shearer, Art Hedberg, Earl Greer, and Jack Wade will represent San Francisco on a west coast hook-up, while the students of Ohio State university will take the first half of the show on a coast to coast hook-up.

The problem under discussion will be the housing shortage.

In an interview last week Mr. Doyle said there were four more shows scheduled but could give no further information at this time, other than saying he was working hard with the students on radio work shop production.

Block 'S' Plans Rally, Banquet

The Block "S," lettermen's society, announced their plans last Tuesday for sponsoring the homecoming rally Thursday, October 31. This rally, the club promises, is to be one of the best that has been held at State for some time.

As planned, the banquet for alumni members November 1 is also under the guidance of the Block "S." Anyone possessing the coveted block is invited and those interested in the affair may see Bud Werner, newly-elected representative. The dinner is to be from 6 to 8 p. m., and will not interfere with the Soph Strut, being held a little later in the evening. Mr. David Cox, head of the physical education and health department, is to be the main speaker. Various members of the alumni are to give short talks with outside talent expected to be on hand also. Plans are still tentative as to the location of the banquet.

In addition to making public the above information, the Block "S" elected the officers for this term. Those elected are Pete Perry, president; John Sheppard, vice-president; Curt Buttles, secretary; Bill Plutte, treasurer and Bud Werner, representative.

Alpha Phi Gamma Pledges Neophytes

At the semi-annual initiation ceremony on November 3, ten new members will be accepted into Alpha Phi Gamma, honorary journalism fraternity.

In conjunction with Alumni Week-end the affair will serve as a get-together for all alumni and present members of the organization. Among the former State students who will be present are June Gyselbrecht, sports writer for the News; Pierre Salinger, sports writer on the Chronicle; Betty Cloak, managing editor of the Redding newspaper, and Bill Mannin, a campaign manager for the Political Action Committee.

Students who will be initiated include Phyllis Norin, Etta Bucholtz, Pat Merrill, Marne Camp, Terrance Kilpatrick, Harry Erlich, George Newell, Grace Pulizzi and Dr. Carroll Atkinson.

Tests

General educational development tests in social studies, natural sciences, English and literature are available to lower division veteran students. These tests, offered by the Veterans' Counseling Center at 750 Eddy Street, are part of the guidance service inaugurated by the government to aid veteran students.

Those veterans who take the tests will be eligible to receive six units of credit for each test passed, thus making a possible 24 units, an equivalent of a semester and a half of college education, as the maximum obtainable.

The tests are at the moment limited to freshmen; however, any lower division student may apply for these tests by submitting a special application to Miss Florence Vance, registrar. The purpose of the tests is to enable veterans to receive credit for any development they may have achieved while in service.

"All veterans would benefit by going through the guidance process offered at the Veterans' Counseling Center," declared Dean Cornelsen. "The tests are of a definite value to those lower division veterans who wish to avail themselves of this chance to earn some extra units of credit."

College Follies Needs Title - Can You Name It?

Do you have a creative imagination? Have you won any box top contests lately? Do your friends hate you because of the names you create for them? Well good! You're just the Stater we're looking for.

A name is all we want, but an original, provocative, eye catching name it must be. A name for what? The State Follies, Chicken's Ball or YOU NAME IT. According to certain rumors the State Follies have been confused with a downtown 'variety' show and therefore an appeal is being made to all Staters to get out the thinking cap. Just to give you an idea of what is wanted Stanford has the "Gaities," Northwestern is known for the annual "Waa Mu" show, and Princeton has the "Hasty Pudding."

All entries should be placed in the Golden Gate box near the P. O. boxes by next Wednesday, October 30. The winning name will be announced the following Friday, November 1.

Marine Reserve Open to Ex GI's

All veterans who have a yearning to work around airplanes again, and those who never had a chance to because of duties in the service, may join the Marine Corps Aviation Reserve Squadron VMF 141 at the Oakland Airport. Former enlisted men are especially needed to service and maintain the planes and equipment generally connected with a fighter squadron. However, no former experience is necessary along these lines. A ground school has been set up for the instruction of all trainees.

Any man with an honorable discharge from any branch of the armed forces will be accepted for duty. He will hold the same rank and pay grade as at the time of his discharge.

Flight operations will be held on the first and third Saturdays and Sundays of the month, with instruction periods on the first and third Tuesday nights. There will be two periods every morning and afternoon during operations. A man will be paid for as many as four periods per month, for which he will receive a day's pay for each period. For example, a veteran discharged with the rank of corporal, who had received three dollars per day, will get three dollars for one period or twelve dollars for four periods. Included in these four periods are the two training periods.

Further information can be had by calling Sweetwood 7141 Ext. 27, every day from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. except Monday and Tuesday.

Shearer, Camp to Head Health Plan Committee

Marge Shearer and Marne Camp were appointed to head the health plan committee at a recent board of directors meeting. Their job will involve the investigation of various health plans and selecting one which might be suitable for State. Further business carried on included the appointment of Dean John Cornelsen as job analyst to study the position of student body manager, which will result in a clear cut analysis of that job being available when Miss Caroline Nahman's contract expires December 31, 1946.

June Dolan, student body vice-president, will appoint a committee of club presidents who will speak at the Freshman orientation classes in regards to campus activities and organizations.

The discussion as to whether AMS and AWS is necessary was brought up and will be given further consideration at the next meeting.

Salvini Assigned To Service Band

Sgt. Rudolph Salvini, a former Stater, is currently assigned to the 314th Army Service Forces band of the 681st Special Services Battalion, stationed in Germany.

Sgt. Salvini plays the trumpet in the 314th band and was also the leader of the 761st Army Air Force band. While in the states Salvini had his own band for two years.

The Special Services band is well known throughout the European Theater for their radio show, "It's All Yours." Prominent guest stars are a regular feature of this program and recent artists include Paulette Goddard, Grace Moore and Mrs. Lawrence Tibbet.

The program is broadcast every Sunday evening from the Weisbaden Opera House, Germany, over the Armed Forces network.

The "childishness" attack condemns not only the initiation maintained by Alpha Psi Omega, but also the action of people in general, many social affairs, and organizations throughout the United States.

The cast of Alpha Psi Omega disagrees that the initiation is purely a childish affair of hazing. No physical pain is executed, and no tedious task is assigned to an incoming member of the cast.

A major question has developed, "If an individual refuses to go through initiation, can he still become a member?" The answer is not definitely yes or no. An indi-

Drama Instructor Tells Of Interests In Fields Of Stage, Screen, Radio

State's stocky, amiable Dr. J. Fenton McKenna, recently appointed head of the drama department, is intensely interested in the college student seeking recognition in the world of stage, screen and radio.

the theater, Dr. McKenna appeared in professional and semi-professional stage shows, chiefly in California. While appearing in theatrical presentations, in addition to teaching and directing, Dr. McKenna became acquainted with such noted screen talent scouts as Solmie Baiano of Warner Brothers and Milton Lewis of Paramount Pictures.

The famous motion picture sound expert, Colonel Levinson, head of the Motion Picture Research Council and holder of several Hollywood "Oscars" and Dr. McKenna became friends through their mutual interest in stage and screen work.

THEATRE CAREER BEGINS

Dr. McKenna's start in the theater began in the same manner as that of many of his students. Originally concerned with a study of law, (he holds two degrees in this field), college dramatic work and post-graduate experiences changed his mind. From that time on his interest in law slowly fell before a mounting enthusiasm for dramatics. He later became head of the dramatics department of Santa Clara university then went on to take graduate work in dramatics at Stanford and Northwestern universities.

Dr. McKenna intends to interest Colonel Levinson in the dramatic work now being accomplished by the students of State college. Talent Scout Solmie Baiano is expected by Dr. McKenna to visit State's drama workshops and rehearsals for the season's major productions.

Students Hear President Leonard

President J. Paul Leonard welcomed new students and faculty members to State in an address to the student body at the first assembly of the term held in the First Baptist Church, Wednesday, October 23.

The assembly was opened by Dean P. F. Valentine. Dr. William Knuth conducted the State symphony orchestra in the last movement of "Beethoven's Fifth Symphony." Other musical offerings included two violin solos, "Scherzo Tarantelle" by Wieniawski and "Intermezzo" by Provoost, presented by Dr. George Leedham, Professor of the violin, accompanied by Dr. Wendell Otey.

After welcoming new students and faculty, President Leonard went on to tell of his trip east looking for faculty prospects. Regarding the new campus, he stated that there are several measures before the legislature that will be beneficial to the college in building the campus; however, he did not state what these measures were. "The palm tree will for sure, be transplanted to the Merced campus," he said. He closed his speech by stating that further action for the purpose of serving the students would be discussed at the Asilomar conference next month.

vidual who declined for justifiable reasons would be honored.

It seems that there was not a controversial issue for debate, but merely a misunderstanding by individuals who misinterpreted the initiation.

Sincerely,
Allan Hummel
